Where this certificate is issued on a diamond which is graded mounted, diamond and / or gem weights and / or other characteristics may be based on information supplied to us and are graded as the mounting allows. Values referred to in this report are based on IDI recommended insurance values, calculated according to current market values and are based on the opinion of IDI on the high end replacement value and based on fixed currencies conversions as determined by our currency exchange rate department. Due to currency fluctuation this might vary from time to time from current exchange rates.
